

FOR LIFE IN THE MILE HIGH CITY

denver

M A G A Z I N E ®

savor

everything but ...

The Kitchen Sink

NEWS AND NOTES FROM OUR WORLD TO YOURS

From Our Sneak Peek ...

Jennifer Jasinski's Euclid Hall

Since plans were announced this spring, Denver has been eagerly awaiting the opening of Euclid Hall, the food-focused beer hall and third restaurant from Jennifer Jasinski and Beth Gruitch (the duo behind Rioja and Bistro Vendôme). Good news: Chef Jen and her chef de cuisine, Jorel Pierce, are done testing recipes for the Larimer Square spot, which is slated to open this month. During a recent press tasting, we sampled elevated pub fare that was at once inventive and approachable, such as hen of the woods poutine, housemade boudin noir, and a bratwurst burger, all served with chef-made pickles and mustards and a few of the 40 craft beers they will pour. One word: Prost! (euclidhall.com). — SB

AUGUST 2010 $5.95

0 74470 24015 0